THE DAILY PROGRESS.

VOL. V. RALEIGH, WEDNESDAY, AUG. 17, 1864. NO. 135.

THE LATEST NEWS

[Corrected every morning from the latest sources of information.]

[Special Dispatch to the Richmond Enquirer.]

RICHMOND, Aug. 16.—Old Sturdy reports officially that he attacked the enemy's supply train near Harrisville, on the 14th inst., capturing and destroying 75 loaded wagons, killing over 200 prisoners, including several officers, and burning upwards of six hundred beautiful mules, 200 head of cattle and other valuable stores. A considerable number of the enemy were killed and wounded—Sturdy lost 2 killed, 6 wounded.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.]

RICHMOND, Aug 15.—The Yankees are constantly demonstrative on the Petersburg road, below the city. It is reported they are abandoning 6 field movements which will probably lead to active operations in that quarter.

The enemy's cavalry advanced by the Chester Gap road this morning as Winchester, seven miles before the city, where a force of Confederate cavalry engaged them, and after several skirmishes, which continued late in afternoon, they were driven back several miles. No further particulars.

Latest from the North.

RICHMOND, Aug. 16.—A special dispatch to the "Whig" from Petersburg, says the Washington "Chronicle" of the 12th has full accounts of the recent explosion at City Point. It says that the explosion was the most terrific of the kind in the history of gunpowder.

Two barges loaded with ammunition moored at City Point were sent to ascend with all their contents, consisting of about 2000 barrels of shot. Shell and canister were landed to all directions—distant volumes of black smoke and an avalanche of burning timbers.

A new warehouse 200 feet long and 60 wide on the wharf filled with Government stores was obliterated into fragments. The Adams Express Office adjoining a government building and a number of cars were also destroyed.—Nineteen persons were killed and 100 wounded, mostly black.

From Mobile.

MOBILE, Aug. 15.—Two cruising tugs Hoodgens and five gunboats crossed Dog river bar, and coming up within two miles of the obstructions opened fire on our Batteries and gunboats for three hours, doing no damage. Our gunboat replied handsomely. The batteries were silent at present, and the enemy had landed on.

A special dispatch to the "Register" from Oxford, 14th, says Chalmers had crossed into Abbeville and whipped the enemy, capturing seventy-five prisoners. Our loss was five killed and twenty-five wounded, that of the enemy 40 killed and 40 wounded. Heavy firing was heard in the direction of Fort Morgan this morning.

ATLANTA—FURIOUS SHELLING.

We take the following letter from the Southern Confederacy, now published at Macon:

ATLANTA, WEDNESDAY, 6½ o'clock A. M. }
August 10, 1864. }

Since my last letter, there have been great changes in our lines. This is so because the enemy is constantly shifting from right to left and back again, as if searching for a weak place by which to gain admission to this much coveted city, from which they have already dated their lying dispatches. So far, that weak place has not been found, and they have been driven back discomfitted all along the lines where they have dared to advance. When their losses have been most severe, the shelling of the city has been most furious—determined if they can't take vengeance on the men, they will on the women and children. I say this, and every word of it is the truth.

We captured a prisoner the other day who belonged to one of their batteries. He told me that Sherman rode up to his battery in person and instructed the gunners not to fire at the fortifications, but to take the city. He knows that all manufacturing and public works have been removed, so he can't have that for an excuse, as the Yankees did at Charleston, and he is also aware that our army is in his front, and the city only occupied by hospitals and the women and children who can't get away.

Yesterday the shells fell thick and fast in the afternoon. Some damage to buildings, but no loss of life so far as I could learn. They came in from three different directions, and were chiefly fired from 10-pounder parrott guns.

On some account, a general engagement was anticipated this morning, but the sun is now up, and no firing yet, except pickets, away down on our left. There the enemy is massing, as if determined to reach East Point, thereby compelling the evacuation of the city. There is yet a very heavy fog, which may be delaying operations.

How this protracted struggle will end is very doubtful. The endurance of our army is wonderful—that of the enemy not less so. They may finally wear us out and outnumber this brave band until it will have to give back. May God forbid it!

There is but little news to write. I have nothing from Sherman's army. New papers have reached us for several days, and they contained nothing worth repeating.

THAT'S SO.—It is easier for a new mill to pass through the eye of a needle than it is for a rich man to enter Chimp Holmes as a Conscript.

The Yankees run their trains within two miles of Atlanta.

Job Printing.—Having an abundance of material and good workmen we are prepared to execute all orders for Job Printing with dispatch.

We think the Editor of the Oxford [illegible] and both of the other Federal papers in town, will be content to-day. Their papers think pay the contrac. have the highest circulation, and boast the best rights in the government advertising; but the publishers of [illegible] are, however, here to-day, and will be happy to state party. At the following circulation, equal to any of which number, however, in the people of Wake, and as we have a large circulation in the county, we offer it a guaranteed showing. In other places there has been no use to all the papers, but not so here:

IS IT SO?—We find the following in a Southern exchange:

Gov. Smith, of Va., has suspended all religious newspapers published in Richmond, on the ground that religious newspapers are not necessary to the public good. He therefore refuses to exempt the necessary printers for them.

BRIG. GEN. MATTHEW BARRINGER, COMMANDING Brigade of Cavalry, Army Northern Virginia:

General:—In accordance with your request of the 9th inst., I have the honor to report that I have collected and turned over to the Quartermaster of this command, at this place, one wagon, one [illegible] mule, which he informed me, when he received them, were the property of the Confederate States. He stated that they were taken by our troops or the enemy on their flank of retreat, or on battle field, or left to avoid by officers of private command in the military service, and the property of the Confederate States. He warned in the military service had a right to sell or otherwise dispose of [illegible] which [illegible] under the orders and regulations of the Ordnance Department.

Gen. Barringer will not delegate the authority to any one except [illegible] officers of his brigade Commands who will be furnished with a copy of this authority, and with instructions to furnish receipts therefor from those [illegible] &c., are taken under his orders.

By command of Brig. Gen. M. Barringer.

(Signed) HENRY E. BALDWIN,
Lieut. Colonel and Chief Ordnance Officer,
A. B. V.

Under this authority I desire especially to register my McClellan saddles. These saddles were captured from the enemy. There can be no private property in them. Private Rangers and officers have no right to sell them except to this government, which pays full prices for the same.

This brigade is small in point of good soldiers. Many of those we have are raising the horses' backs. The mules are losing largely and the service suffering severely by these saddles being withheld from it, when obtained by self-claim. I appeal to all patriots to come forward and voluntarily give them up to their officers and men of this brigade in their respective localities, who will receive for them. Those now at home, and especially all on furlough, are required to gather up these saddles, also Sharp's rifles, Colt's repeaters, and other cavalry arms and equipments, the property of the Confederate States, and bring them back into the service. All reasonable expenses incurred in this way will be repaid them.

I claim no right at present either to seize or impress these arms and equipments; but I confidently expect every honest man, not in the field, to give them up. They ought to be delivered, in a time like this to be done with them.

RUFUS BARRINGER,

General Order, }
No. 32. }

TWO MANY MEMBERS OF THIS BRIGADE HAVE been long absent on various pretexts. Conscript officers and others must be urged to have these parties arrested. No indulgence should be shown skulkers and cowards while true and brave men are always at their posts. Officers absent without leave for 30 days must be promptly reported, to be dropped from the rolls. Enlisted men so absent must be advertised and treated as deserters. Those on sick leave and furlough must attend to their business, &c., and [illegible] to their commands. Failing to do so, they must be reported as absent without leave. Those permanently disabled must apply for discharge, retirement or detail on light duty; and every facility must be extended them to get their papers through, and to secure them (when qualified) suitable places. No pardon can be promised deserters. But it is believed that many have been misled by the unfortunate teachings of others. In such cases (no special aggravation appearing) they may be saved by a prompt return to duty. If arrested, they cannot but expect the death penalty so recently inflicted on two of their comrades in this Brigade.
